

New York Police Arrest Rij In Riesel Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP) — A shadowy figure in the racket-ridden garment industry was seized today in the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. He is Theodore Rij, 43, the target of a nationwide FBI manhunt.

Rij was described as a henchman of John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi, alleged ringleader in the April 5 acid attack on the newspaperman. Police quoted Rij as saying he met Riesel about a year ago in a restaurant on 52nd St.

It was not the crack sleuths of the FBI who caught up with the husky, florid-faced Rij, but two detectives of New York's W. 30th St. station. They were Frank O'Sullivan and Edward Cavanagh.

Store

Both knew Rij by sight. They did not say how they were tipped off to his whereabouts. But they found him idling in front of a clothing store on W. 32nd St., two and a half blocks from the precinct station house.

Although Rij was described by the FBI as extremely dangerous, he surrendered meekly at gunpoint. He had $29 in his pockets. Detectives quoted him as saying he had been hiding out in subways, fearful of surrendering to the FBI lest they give him "a hard time."

Nonetheless Rij was being turned over to the FBI for questioning.

He was the eighth man arrested in connection with the assault that cost Riesel his sight. The acid was hurled into the syndicated columnist's face shortly after he left Lindy's Broadway restaurant. The actual attacker of Riesel was said to have been Abraham Telvi, a minor 22-year-old hoodlum who was found slain on the Lower East Side July 28.

Turnpike Commission Hopeful Of Setting Official Opening Date For Northeast Extension

HARRISBURG, Sept. 19 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission hopes to decide next week exactly what part of the northeastern extension can be opened this year.

"I think we'll be able to decide just what we can open this year after we receive a full report on progress to date at the next meeting," said Chairman G. Franklin McSorley.

Air Force Grounds B52s Second Time

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP) — For the second time this year, the Air Force has grounded all its B52 jet bombers—the biggest plane in its nuclear striking force—until it learns the cause of a fatal crash.

Air Force headquarters, announcing this today in response to inquiries, said the grounding order was a "precautionary measure" taken after one of the eight-million-dollar aerial giants crashed Monday in California.

Spokesmen said they couldn't estimate how long the planes might be grounded.

Five Perish

Five airmen died in the California accident, in which an eight-jet B52 burst into flames while in flight and fell in pieces.

In a similar accident last February, three airmen lost their lives. Both crashes involved planes based at Castle Air Force Base, Calif.

The Air Force said the B52s, though grounded, will be ready for flight daily with crews standing by.

The big bomber can travel more than 6,000 miles without aerial refueling. It can cruise at an altitude exceeding 50,000 feet at a speed of more than 650 miles an hour.

Yesterday the Air Force said only the B52s at Castle were being kept on the ground for that one day, in respect for the five Castle airmen killed in Monday's crash.

Three Cypriots To Hang

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Sept. 19 (AP) — Three young Greek Cypriots were told today they must die on the gallows for anti-British violence. An angry noisy demonstration erupted in Nicosia's Central prison.

Proud

The convicted men told relatives they were proud to die as heroes. Their last hope of reprieve evaporated when Sir John Harding, governor of this British island colony, ordered that "justice take its course in each case."

State Awards Contract

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP) — The State Power Authority today awarded N. R. Corbello Inc., Binghamton, a $1,398,965 contract for relocation of a road in the St. Lawrence Power project area.

Congress Receives Report On Food Stamp

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP) — The Agriculture Department today made public its recent report to Congress on a food stamp plan—described as a secret document by the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, Estes Kefauver.

Prepared at the request of Congress, the report contains no conclusions as to the advisability of inaugurating a food stamp plan.

The estimated cost for such a procedure for disposing of surplus farm commodities was placed at 1½ billion dollars annually.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse described the report as a "preliminary and not necessarily a final one."

Marines Order Court-Martial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., Sept. 19 (AP) — The Marine Corps today ordered a special court-martial to try a corporal accused of slugging a raw recruit in the stomach at this training base.

Pvt. Donald Hamisfar, 20, of Norwalk, Ohio, said he was punched and pushed on his second day here for failing to say "sir" to the corporal who was issuing equipment to his platoon.

Eisenhower Pledges U. S. To Needy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP) — President Eisenhower declared tonight that in a world confronted by "grave problems" America stands ready to dedicate its vast strength "to serving the needs, rather than the fears of the world."

In an address built around a single word—peace—the President said that "our task is far from done." And he said that the people of the world, including the Soviet leaders, "must never be deceived—or delighted—by any myth of American weakness."

This was Eisenhower's first big speech of the presidential campaign, an address prepared for delivery at 9:30 p. m. EDT over the CBS television and radio network from studios here.

Opportunity

There wasn't any thundering against the Democrats in this opening campaign address of the chief executive. Nevertheless Eisenhower didn't pass up a chance to take a couple of digs at his Democratic rival, Adlai E. Stevenson, although he didn't mention Stevenson's name.

Whereas Stevenson has proposed halting hydrogen bomb tests if other nations give assurances they will go along, Eisenhower told his audience tonight that "we cannot prove wise and strong by any such simple device as suspending, unilaterally, our H-bomb tests."

In the next breath, the President said, too, that "we cannot prove wise and strong by hinting that our military draft might soon be suspended—even though every family naturally hopes for the day when it might be possible."

Stevenson has been calling for an end to the draft as soon as the national security will permit. He did it first in a speech to the American Legion convention in Los Angeles Sept. 5.

"The full measure of our work for peace," the President said, "can be simply summarized. We have seen an end to the old pattern of tragedy: Not a single nation has been surrendered to aggression. We have maintained this defense of freedom without recourse to war."

"And we have embraced, in this defense—without war, lands in Asia—such as Formosa—previously written off as beyond the practical reach of our concern."

"These are some of the reasons why I can say to you tonight: The pledge of peace, made to you upon the day of my inauguration, has been pursued—firmly and effectively."

Four Perish In Flames

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP) — Four children lost their lives in their blazing home today as the mother of two tried vainly to battle her way through flames to rescue them.

Mrs. Lucille Watson, 24, was found in a clump of bushes near the frame house when firemen reached the scene. She was taken, semiconscious and incoherent, to Chester County Hospital, where her condition was listed as "fair."

Hands

Doctors said she had sustained severe burns of the hands and arms.

The four young victims were identified as Frankie Watson, 8; her brother, John Frank Watson, 6; Samuel Derry, 7, and his brother, Horace O. Derry, 11. All are Negroes.

Witnesses Reveal Various Problems Connected With Racial Integration In School Systems

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP) — A retired Washington high school principal told House investigators today racial integration brought serious discipline and sex problems to his school and another witness said desegregation was ordered too quickly.

John Paul Collins submitted a sworn statement to a public congressional hearing saying integration problems contributed to a breakdown of his health which forced him to retire as principal of Eastern High School.

Collins said "many sex problems" developed at the school and disciplinary problems became "tremendous."

Stevenson To Issue Series Of Statements

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP) — Adlai Stevenson today assailed the Eisenhower administration's labor policy and promised he would apply "new imagination," if elected, to spread the benefits of atomic energy and other new techniques.

In addition to his labor statement, telephoned to the United Steelworkers convention at Los Angeles, the Democratic presidential nominee made known he would add an "extra dimension" to his campaign by issuing a series of detailed statements on some basic issues.

Stevenson's press secretary, Clayton Fritchey, said the candidate will put out five or six such statements in a form that will enable him to elaborate his views without regard to the "entertainment" or other limitations of political rally speeches.

Nature

Fritchey said these statements will be in the nature of "major affirmations," with the first two tentatively slated to cover "human resources" such as better educational facilities and more attention to the problem of using middle-aged and elderly persons to the greater benefit of themselves and the nation.

The first of these statements is expected to be issued over the weekend, with the others to follow on an average of once a week between now and Election Day. Other topics penciled in for the statements include health, national resources and "rebuilding of our cities."

Sets Speed Record

CONISTON, England, Sept. 19 (AP) — Donald Campbell today roared his lobster-like hydroplane, Bluebird, to a new world water speed record of 225.63 miles an hour in a death-defying burst over the waters of Lake Coniston.

Applauded

The move, taken shortly after the Supreme Court ruled that public school segregation is unconstitutional, was applauded at the time by President Eisenhower as an example for other sections.

Sharpe gave his views to the subcommittee after figures on achievement tests given Washington students were read into the record.

Negroes Barred At Sturgis

STURGIS, Ky., Sept. 19 (AP) — After attending classes for nearly two weeks, eight Negro students were barred from Sturgis High School today and an attorney said he planned to take their case to federal court.

A white boycott of the school began lifting immediately after the Negroes were barred. Troops remained on guard here and in nearby Clay.

"We will ask for a temporary as well as permanent injunction within a few days," said James Crumlin, Louisville attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Owensboro

Crumlin said the suit would be filed at Owensboro. He already filed suit earlier asking that four Negroes be reinstated at Clay consolidated school. The Negroes were refused admittance yesterday on orders of the Webster County Board of Education.

Both school boards based their orders on an opinion from the state attorney general's office. The opinion said the Negroes were not legally enrolled because neither board had taken official action to start integration.

Adj. Gen. J. B. Williams, commander of National Guardsmen here and at Clay, said they will remain on duty for the time being.

Approximately 180 of the 275 white students at Sturgis returned to classes after the Negroes departed.

Said Clark: "While it is important that big business prosper, it is also important that all other segments of our nation's life prosper." He said Duff has been "smugly complacent" in referring to what he said the Republican senator has called "prosperity."

Clark added: "There are three million Pennsylvanians, a quarter of the Commonwealth's population, living in families trying to make ends meet on yearly incomes of less than $2,500."

"There are over a quarter of million persons unemployed in Pennsylvania. Some of the most depressed areas of the nation are located in Pennsylvania."

"I expect that very shortly there will be a meeting of minds (between the department and bureau) on what is to be done on improving U. S. 6," said Robert Farley, acting chief engineer of the department, in disclosing the inspection trip.

Tour

The tour, to last through Friday, was expected to start in Bradford County and extend westward. Both Lawler and Stinson have expressed strong support for improvement of the cross state route under the 1956 Federal Highway Aid Act. The department favors inclusion of the proposed Sharon-Stroudsburg Shortway route in the U. S. interstate network rather than U. S. 6.

Claims To Be 167

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP) — A tiny Indian from Colombia, who may be the oldest man in the world, came here today to let scientists try to find out if he actually is 167 years old as some persons have estimated. His name is Javier Pereira.

Duff Carries Campaign Into Erie

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP) — Republican Sen. James H. Duff, campaigning for re-election, said today the principles of American governmental philosophy are not understood by his Democratic rival, Joseph S. Clark.

Speaking at a GOP luncheon here, Duff said Clark wrote in a national magazine three years ago that "spiritually and economically youth is conditioned to respond to a liberal program of orderly policing of our society by government subject to popular will."

"Do you know what that means?" Duff asked. "That is what Hitler did when he got the S. S. (secret police) in the early days of its training," Duff added.

Reasoning

"Now I don't say Joe Clark means to do the same thing, but I do say he does not understand the principles of American governmental philosophy. And this is the kind of man who wants to represent you in the U. S. Senate."

Rep. Robert F. Kent, GOP candidate for state treasurer, said the administration of Gov. Leader is overspending despite what he said were campaign promises by Leader to cut government spending.

Meanwhile, Rep. Charles C. Smith, GOP candidate for auditor general, said he had asked Gov. Leader in a telegram to publicly explain a newspaper advertisement which Smith said urged personnel seeking posts in state mental institutions to apply to the Venango County Democratic chairman.

Smith said the governor has "oft repeated" that there will be no politics in the administration of the state's mental hospitals and added: "I hereby demand a public explanation of the published advertisement. Sept. 7 by the Democrat chairman of Venango County that professionally and technically trained personnel should apply in person to him."

"I have information that this is not an isolated case and that the very same thing is occurring in Harrisburg within a few blocks of your office," Smith declared. "The public interest requires that you explain at once."

The hearing, which began last Thursday, came to an end after a discussion on whether introduction of natural gas by the Scranton-Spring Brook Water Service Co. would help or harm the anthracite area.

Gas Hearing Reaches End

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP) — A Federal Power Commission hearing on an application to pipe natural gas into the Scranton and Wilkes-Barre area of Pennsylvania ended today.

The hearing, which began last Thursday, came to an end after a discussion on whether introduction of natural gas by the Scranton-Spring Brook Water Service Co. would help or harm the anthracite area.

Refusal By Nasser May Bring Boycott

By Arthur Gavshon
LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles asked 18 nations today to press Egypt for a share in control of Suez Canal traffic. He plainly indicated the canal might be boycotted if Egypt refused to cooperate.

Dulles added an emphatic warning that an eventual Suez solution must conform with justice and law as well as with peace.

Five of the countries at the conference balked at the Dulles outline of the project.

He characterized the canal dispute as a test case of the world's ability to deal with its problems.

"If there is no substitute for force in achieving just solutions the world will relapse into chaos," he said.

Suggestion

While Dulles was speaking in London, the Soviet Union came out for a six-nation Suez negotiation conference composed of the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union, Egypt and India.

In Cairo, Egypt's President Nasser summoned his Cabinet to a special night meeting on the dispute. Before the Egyptians presumably was Dulles' London outline of the users' association plan. Nasser already has rejected it as illegal and a danger to world peace.

In Damascus, Arab political leaders called for "an immediate general military and economic mobilization" in their countries and military training of civilians to resist the West. At their rally they also called on Arab governments to prepare an Arab boycott against the West, barring Arab oil and use of bases and airports.

The 18-nation conference here—called to consider the next steps in the explosive dispute—wound up its first day's sessions with a majority backing the Western Big Three project to form a users' association. It is intended to protect the rights of international shipping in the now Egyptianized Suez Canal.

Some smaller nations expressed misgivings about the project. Denmark favored an immediate appeal to the U.N. Sweden, Iran and Spain suggested new negotiations with Egypt. Pakistan rejected the Western plan as looking like an attempt at an imposed settlement.

Moscow's new proposal came from Soviet Premier Bulganin, replying to Premier questions from J. Kingsbury Smith, of International News Service. Bulganin said he would be willing to join talks with the government chiefs of the United States, Britain, France, Egypt and India.

An authoritative Egyptian source in Cairo said his government will "wait and see" what the Western Powers think of the Bulganin six-nation proposal.

Both Parties Exchange New Charges

HARRISBURG, Sept. 19 (AP) — Republicans and Democrats exchanged new charges today on whether state employees or persons dealing with the state were forced to buy tickets to a $50-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

George I. Bloom Jr., Republican state chairman, made public a photostat of envelopes he said were imprinted with state address plates and sent to a Perry County automobile dealer.

Bloom said the same address plate was used:

1. In sending automobile inspection stickers to the dealer and
2. In asking for a contribution to the Democratic dinner.

The return addresses were different. One envelope showed the Bureau of Highways Safety, Bloom said, and the other, the Democratic Finance Committee.

But Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, replied that GOP attacks on the Democratic fund-raising dinner was "an overt conspiracy to distract attention from Republican scandals."

He said Bloom has been attempting to "explain away the shocking raids made by members of his own party on the funds of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission and the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission when it was help in the iron grip of Republican administration."

100,000 Visit Tobyhanna State Park

TOBYHANNA—An estimated 100,000 persons visited Tobyhanna State Park during the period June 1 through Sept. 3, it was announced yesterday by Herbert C. Altomose, Pococeno Lake, senior foreman, Department of Forests and Waters.

Altomose, who is park manager, said the majority of visitors came from Scranton, Allentown, Bethlehem and Palmerton as well as Monroe County points. There were many visitors who were vacationing at Pococeno resorts and hotels.

Commonwealth

Part of the park was deeded to the Commonwealth from the Federal Government (U. S. Army) in 1948 for use as a recreational area. The remaining area, embracing the lake, which was formerly used for ice harvesting, was acquired by purchase in 1950. The park area consists of approximately 7,318 acres of which only 25 acres have been developed. It is located on Route 490 one mile north of Tobyhanna. The park was opened in 1953 with a lake area of 165 acres. The parking lot can accommodate 400 cars and a picnic area contains 185 tables. Water is provided by three drilled wells and a beach front of 600 feet is available.

Visitors who own row boats may operate them on the lake after obtaining license at the office.

Altomose said a new tenting area, parking lot and concession has been approved and will probably be opened for the beginning of next season. The tenting area and new concession building is to be located across the lake from the beach. Drilled wells will supply drinking water. A new boat renting concession is planned where visitors may rent row boats at the rate of 50 cents per hour or $2 per day.

A new first aid building is planned for the coming season. One already in existence contains, among other things, a resuscitator, oxygen and stretcher for first aid and life-saving facilities. Three life guards are maintained during the regular hours of the bathing season.

Fishing is permitted around the shore with the exception of the beach and boat concession areas. Footpaths are partially around the shore and will eventually encompass the lake. In addition eight fire roads may be used by foot travelers.

Employees

Altomose, who came to the park in November, 1955, is assisted by four regular employees. Each year two graduates of Penn State University of Forestry are assigned to the park as a training program to supplement their academic training.

Tour of Season

The bathing season is during the summer months, approximately June 1 to Labor Day; however, the park is open the year around, during certain prescribed hours for those "hardy souls" who wish to partake of its facilities, Altomose said.

Special Equipment

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP)—The British Broadcasting Corp. is putting in special receiving equipment to catch American TV casts this autumn and winter. A BBC spokesman said sunspot activity will improve chances of picking up an American picture in England up to Christmas time, and getting it on BBC general programs. In the United States, NBC failed on its first attempt to pick up BBC last Sunday.

Two Musical Programs On Concert Agenda

MIDWAY in their intensive one-week campaign for members, the Pococeno Community Concert Association is already assured of two outstanding musical programs this winter.

Eugene Conley, tenor, who has sung with the Metropolitan Opera Company and often been heard on television and radio; and the Angelaires, a group of five young vocalists who sing with harp accompaniment, have already been reserved for local concerts.

Memberships

Artists for the remaining programs will be determined by the number of memberships secured in the campaign which closes on Saturday at 5 p.m.

Community concert memberships entitle their holders to attend all of the concerts given by the association each season. The concerts are non-profit concerns with every dollar of membership dues spent for artists and attractions and the local expenses of presenting them in concert.

No individual tickets are sold, and no membership after the close of the campaign. Individuals who have not been contacted for membership may call 5570 to reserve them.

County Proud Of Voter Registration But Shouldn't Rest On Its Laurels

Monroe Countians may well feel justifiably proud in the knowledge that a record number of their fellow citizens are qualified to vote in the November 6 General Election.

While there are still many who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to register, the 2,111 who did were sufficient to push the total of those on the permanent rolls to 19,635—or almost 60 per cent of the county's entire population.

Not everyone is eligible to register, of course. To obtain a true percentage of qualified voters, in relation to the voting potential, the overall population figure must be adjusted to eliminate minors, unnaturalized aliens and a few others. When this is done, approximately six out of seven eligible citizens will be found on the registration rolls.

But reassuring as this figure may sound, we can be certain that, no matter how hot the political campaign, some eligible voters will not bother to vote come November 6.

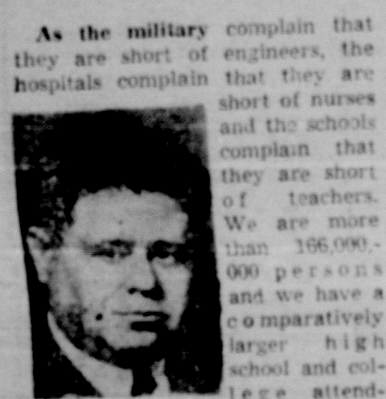

Making Education Too Easy Spoils Children In Later School Studies

What's wrong with much of the modern approach to enlightenment of the child seems to us to be embodied in a new dictionary aimed especially at fourth-to-sixth graders. The idea is to relieve them of the necessity of applying to a regular dictionary for definitions.

There are some 18,000 entries as compared with 600,000 in one of the newer standard dictionaries. Most of the words are drawn from children's books and magazines.

George Sokolsky Says...

It's Lack Of Cultural Development More Than Shortage Of Specialists

As the military complain that they are short of engineers, the hospitals complain that they are short of nurses and the schools complain that they are short of teachers. We are more than 100,000,000 persons and we have a comparatively larger high school and college attendance than most countries; nevertheless, we are short of those possessing technical skills and intellectual disciplines.

Gen. S. D. Sturgis, Jr., chief of engineers, takes me to task for deploring "the increasing emphasis for augmenting the output of engineers and scientists as against graduates in the field of liberal and fine arts." The sentence is his, but it is a correct statement of my views on the subject. However, what I deplore is not so much the emphasis upon engineers and physical scientists as the lack of cultural development and intellectual attainments among university graduates who are so trapped by specialties, their majors, that they are graduated into a trade rather than into a civilization.

The Once Over

Twenty-three cities in the country have educational systems and New York is now establishing a video educational center. "The Little Red Schoolhouse" is being wired for sound and equipped with advanced aerial and screen. The only question is whether your kid wants an 18 or 24-inch screen education. The kids are going to love it. But it may call for teachers and janitors who can fix a TV set, get the "snow" out of a lesson and bring the day's instructions into focus. We would hate to be studying in a class where the history course wobbled or faded out intermittently.

It is a long march from the one-room country schoolhouse, dependent largely on a blackboard and McGuffey's Reader. Fancy seeing McGuffey's characters galloping all over a screen, and getting George Washington and the cherry tree LIVE! It may even be possible to work a Dodge City sheriff into the spelling lesson and see that the arithmetic lesson is helped by cow-ponies and a covered wagon. Pictures via TV can grip the young as few books can and the day may be near when Junior, flunking the English course, plot, drama, comedy lines and suspense.

The students may demand top casting, scoring the botany course if it left out Loloiborgia or Marilyn Monroe, passing up English literature without Anita Ekberg and wanting no part of a geology course that lacked Bill Holden, Kirk Douglas, Frank Sinatra, Deborah Kerr or Jimmy Stewart. (In the lower grades the moppets will probably do better if Flicia and Lassie are used.)

We wish there had been TV in the schools of our boyhood. We had to flunk courses the hard way. There wasn't a cowboy in any school session. We didn't even see an Indian raid during recess. Teacher got results with a few books, a stop and the simple order "Stay after school and write 'I am a dune' five hundred times." No school lesson ever ended with "Thanks for listening, children, and don't forget to tune in tomorrow, same time, same place for another exciting chapter in that stirring drama 'Pursuit of Learning'."

There is no telling, of course, how far TV education may go in the experimental stage. There will be quiz program mothers who will send Little Willie off to school

The real task, then, is to awaken every good American to realize it is his responsibility, his cherished privilege, to cast a free, secret ballot in every election.

The present campaign is now in full swing and will wax warmer in the coming weeks. The Democratic nominees, Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, got off to an early start and promise no let-up in their drive to take over the White House. President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon are just as determined to maintain Republican control of the Federal Government.

Both parties can be expected to make extravagant claims and absurd charges during the heat of the battle. A wise electorate is one which will take much of what is said with a grain of salt and then do a lot of conscientious thinking before deciding how to cast its vote.

Such a course is recommended in any election, whether one be voting for the highest office in the land or the lowest. But be sure you DO vote!

Fairly Spoken By MARGARET LATROBE What Teachers Reveal About Their Charges

Educators think of education as having three sides to the coin—intellectual, social and physical. Parents—especially those who complain about the status of school-teaching today—think of education mainly as a one-sided coin—intellectual.

To heck with "social adjustments" and "playground participation" and "learning readiness," say parents. "This kid can't spell! Who cares if he never learns to skip, to sing in tune, to stay out of fights? We want him to SPELL. We want him to LEARN something about arithmetic and geography. Why, he thought Tulsa was the state capital of Texas! And you should see his penmanship! Chicken tracks!"

The teacher—if he or she is a real educator—is thinking on a much more enlightened level than the parent. But it seems to me that in many cases this superior outlook is badly—even stupidly—mismanaged. The teacher may know that little Willie just hasn't got all the machinery it takes for rapid learning. Advances in testing and measuring present certain facts about Willie which his parents ought to know.

But can they find out how he stacks up in comparison to his peers? Only vaguely. "It would do irreparable harm," some teachers say, "to put the stigma of a low IQ on Willie." Or in the case of a brilliant child, every means is employed to keep his exceptional rating under wraps. "Either this child would be pushed too hard, exploited at school and at home, and eventually break down under such pressure—or maybe tomorrow or next year a different test would show a different result." So parents are mercifully "protected" from such dangerously explosive information.

True enough, parents react emotionally about their progeny. News of young Willie's sub-standard showing on tests might cause a frisson between school and home. But whether the cold hard facts might not eventually be kinder than the present vaguely understood pussy-footing, is to be considered.

Criticism falls on the schools, the teachers, the system under the polite fact-dodging today. I think, unjustly. "Schools are meant to teach," it is said. But teaching depends primarily on the ability-to-learn of him who is taught.

In short, some of us can, some cannot. Some can go so far and no farther. Why not face up to it, rather than blame the teacher or the system? "But the teacher is incompetent!" Could be. Any low-paying field is likely to draw its quota of incompetence.

It seems to me that the public has been grossly unconcerned with their own obligation to learn what educators are trying to do. It seems to me that educators have grossly underrated the public's interest in that same goal. That they have perhaps given us less credit for good faith and some degree of understanding than we actually possess.

I think we ought to open up, forget our polite platitudes, and really "level" with each other. I think parents must assume more of the "social" and "physical" development of their own children if schools are ever to concentrate on intellectual development. I think facts should be freely discussed between teacher and parent. If a child is slow, why should that fact be hidden from those who most need to know it? If a child is unusually bright, why not apprise his parents of their responsibility toward him as early as possible?

And most important yet, why expect the teaching field to be overrun with highest competence when we refuse to pay salaries attractive to the best brains on the market?

Heart Institute Chief Gives Insight Into Atherosclerosis

(Robert S. Allen is on vacation. During his absence, his column today is by Dr. James Watt, director of the National Heart Institute, one of the U. S. Public Health Service's great research institutes at Bethesda, Md. Dr. Watt is a noted scientist and public health leader. As head of the heart program, he directs the government's partnership in a nationwide fight against heart disease. In this absorbing column, Dr. Watt points out the importance of public emphasis on atherosclerosis, the most important single cause of death.)

By Dr. James Watt

Director, National Heart Institute
Washington, Sept. 19—We generally think of the important advances of the past against heart disease as scientific events brought about by medical researchers and practitioners in institutions of learning and healing.

We credit the research development of penicillin, for example, and its application through the programs of medical practitioners and educators, for the virtual conquest of syphilitic heart disease, once an important cause of death. The fact that congenital heart defects can now be repaired, high blood pressure often controlled, and rheumatic heart disease prevented, we attribute to new surgical techniques and the application of research knowledge of drugs and cause. These advances are medical events, made possible by scientific efforts and purposes.

Now a new kind of "non-medical" force seems to be operating against heart disease—the force of enlightened public action.

A few years ago, the American public seemed content with the traditional "ivory tower" status of medical research and knowledge. Now the public appears to have adopted some of science's own curiosity about the nature and causes of heart disease and its confidence in the power of scientific knowledge.

Today, the public wants to know exactly what a heart attack is, what causes it, and what can be done to prevent it. Terms like "coronary thrombosis" and "atherosclerosis"—formerly limited to the language of the medical profession—are becoming a part of the general vocabulary. The modern view of the medical profession, that coronary atherosclerosis is not just an unavoidable part of the aging process, is becoming common knowledge.

Atherosclerosis, the major serious form of hardening of the arteries, is now the major disease of our times.

Chiefly by producing heart attacks, it kills at least four hundred thousand Americans each year. But its nature, causes, and treatment are no longer exclusively medical problems to be considered in professional isolation. Sociologists define "social problems" in terms of public awareness and action—atherosclerosis is now a social as well as a medical problem.

This is appropriate, for few Americans are free from the influence of this disease.

Most adults in this country have some degree of atherosclerosis in their arteries, and most of us have friends or relatives who have suffered heart attacks or strokes because of it. Even the young are not free of it. When three hundred military casualties, whose average age was twenty-two, were studied by the Army in Korea, 77.3 percent were found to have coronary atherosclerosis.

Three County Men Called For Jury

By Jim Riley

Three residents of Monroe County have been called to serve on the grand jury in Scranton next month.

The trio includes John L. Lits, Scotrun; Fred Samuel Reaser, Stroudsburg; and Charles Staples, Shawnee-on-Delaware. Lits is Monroe County's Superintendent of Schools.

The grand jury has Monroe County representation virtually every month.

Harold Knipe, well known television authority with shop on Stroudsburg's 6th St., on Tuesday underwent gall bladder surgery at the Monroe County General Hospital.

Harold will be in the hospital for approximately one week and would like very much to hear from his many friends.

Mrs. Sarah June Heckman, Brown St., East Stroudsburg, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Donald Byler.

Mrs. Byler is now a resident of Boston.

Jim Terrill, a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School last June, departed for college yesterday. Terrill will attend Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., this year.

Robert F. Walsh, assistant district attorney of New York, is currently vacationing at Merry Hill Lodge with his assistant, Joseph B. Dalaney.

Walsh and Dalaney are spending a great deal of their time on the pistol and rifle range with host "Spike" Young.

Marcia Bloss, Scotrun, will assume a special teaching position in the Monroe County school system next week.

Marcia is scheduled to begin her duties on Tuesday.

Robert Predmore, Brodhead Ave., East Stroudsburg, was admitted to the Wilkes-Barre Veterans Hospital last Saturday for surgical observation.

Bob's friends may write to him at Ward 4 West, C-19, Veterans Administration Hospital, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Fred Walter, an employee of the Monroe County National Bank, East Stroudsburg, is reportedly an expert trap-shooter.

I hear he's at the sport rain or shine.

Nita Warner and Randy Morris, who plan to marry on Saturday, Oct. 20, were guests of honor at a friendly gathering last Saturday night.

Laughter and moderate gifts were the order of the day.

Marine Band Makes Outstanding Local Appearance

1,900 People Attend Two Performances

By Leonard Randolph
VERY FEW CONCERTS could be called majestic or magnificent. But both of those adjectives could be applied with equal truth to the appearance last night at East Stroudsburg Area Junior High of the United States Marine Band.

It was, beyond doubt, one of the major musical and cultural programs to be heard in this area in years. Given a musical organization which plays almost flawlessly as a unit, Capt. Albert F. Schoepfer, the director, proceeded to give local ticket buyers more than their money's worth in a half-dozen different categories—ranging from grand opera to the traditional marches.

This is a symphonic band to beat any you've heard in recent years. It applies itself with elegant sensitivity to many kinds of music. Beyond the magic of its versatility, it is also an emotionally moving musical unit—a piece of praise which cannot always be used for such groups.

There were about 800 persons in the audience last night. Yesterday afternoon the band performed for an estimated 1,100 students from Monroe County high schools—most of them band members. The students were equalled in their enthusiasm by their elders.

Balanced Program
The band offered an extremely well-balanced program, I thought. There were enough marches to make the audience (both times) keep time. The best of these, it seemed to me, were "Jack Tar" and "March of the Steelmens," both of them played perfectly without any of the sometimes sluggish brassiness of marching bands.

In "Come Back To Sorrento," the band gave way to one of the most accomplished cornet soloists I have ever heard. His name is Eramwell Smith and he plays cornet with a mellow fluidity which is totally lacking in the harshness often associated with the instrument. His two encores—"Star dust" and "Over the Rainbow"—were also excellent.

William Jones, baritone soloist, was heard in the "Largo Al Factotum" from Rossini's "Barber of Seville" and Jerome Kern's "Ol' Man River." He was also fine. In the "Largo," however, there was an unfortunate imbalance between the band and the singer so that the voice was sometimes submerged.

For my money the Marine Band was at its most brilliant in the more "symphonic" selections on the program. One of these—"Suite in E flat" by Gustav Holst—was an extraordinarily moving experience, starting with a beautiful "chaconne" which would bear endless repetition. Another of these was "Jericho," a piece which is surely the finest Morton Gould has ever written. It is a musical "picture" of Joshua's battle and it will bear comparison, I think, with Virgil Thomson's score for "The Plow That Broke the Plains," the father of them all. The "Tannhauser" overture—which can be plodding and dull—was thundering and incisive instead as the band played it. Selections from "Carousel" were also well done.

Yet the highlight of the program, for me, was the band's performance of Paul Creston's "Legend." This is modern, intellectually stimulating music at its finest and I thought the band met the challenge of its intricacies with brilliance.

Last night's Marine Band concert was an event of prime importance for local music lovers. If many of them missed it, they'll be sorry today. The best thing we could do, I think, would be to start a move to get them back again next year. In the meantime—thanks to the Exchange Club—they've been here once and anyone who had an ounce of condescension toward "symphonic band music" should have lost it by now.

BRAKES FAILED: The car at the left, operated by Daniel Bush, 59, of 816 Monroe St., was traveling south on Eighth St. in Stroudsburg yesterday, when the brakes failed as it neared the intersection of Thomas St. As a result, the auto was involved in a collision with the car at the right, driven by Reba Treible, 40, of 116 Jane St. Police estimated damage at some $600. Wiesenberger Resigns After Reported Dispute With Lawler

RESIGNATION of Arthur L. Wiesenberger as chief engineer of the State Highway Department reportedly came after a series of disagreements with Secretary of Highways Joseph J. Lawler.

Wiesenberger has admitted that there had been disagreements between himself and Lawler, according to published reports. However, the final blow-off reportedly came last Friday. The former chief engineer said the disagreements were such as "are bound to come up between a professional man and a layman in the same office."

"Ever since I became chief engineer I have wanted the highways department at Harrisburg to be a professional office," Wiesenberger was quoted as saying. "I have labored hard and long to achieve that."

Last Friday, Wiesenberger said he came to the conclusion that he could not risk further verbal clashes.

"While I am in good health now, I want to maintain that health," he said. "Arguments like that are not conducive to better health for me."

Wiesenberger suffered a heart attack last winter. The former chief engineer said he did not believe his resignation would in any way affect the highway program planned for Eastern Pennsylvania.

Bangor Church Board Meets

BANGOR—Motivation for the construction of an annex for Christian Education, a church reception room and a ministers study were furthered last evening at a joint meeting of the Board of Trustees and the Session of the Bangor Presbyterian Church. The group authorized the appointment of a church planning committee to be composed of two members of the Session; two members of the Board of Trustees; two members of the deacons; two members of the Christian Education Committee and three members of the congregation to be named by the session at large. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Roland Catterall, will act as the moderator for the committee until its formal organization and will then sit as a member of the committee, in an ex officio capacity.

The complete committee will be named by October 15, when the organizational meeting will be announced.

In order that all plans concerning the building can be placed for action before the congregation at its annual meeting in January, the committee has been authorized to have all blue prints made, on the total plans for the building and also to have bids on hand for opening and awarding at that time.

It was also announced that, if plans work out according to present suggestions, a second annex is being contemplated. Further discussions will be held in this area at the first meeting of the committee.

WAABI Lists Contributions For Home

ADDITIONAL contributions for "Operation Needy Aged" were acknowledged by Monroe Chapter, Women's Association of Allied Beverage Industries, last night.

Mrs. Rose Smith, secretary, said donations received since the last list was published total $433. Numbered among the cash gifts were these: Mrs. Sabina Garris, WAABI president, $100; a friend, $40; Lutheran Funeral Home, $30; CLU Social Club, $25; John Facenda, $10; Women of the Moose, $5; Square Bar, $25, and a host of donations ranging from one to 10 dollars.

Mrs. Smith said the chapter's projected plan to buy and equip a guest home for needy aged residents of the county received a boost this week at the Pennsylvania Tavern Association convention in Scranton. A resolution was passed, she was advised, pledging the association's support to the project. Literature and correspondence urging financial backing for the needy aged home will go out to the 23,000 licenses throughout the state, Mrs. Smith learned.

The WAABI chapter will hold its third annual banquet next Thursday night, Sept. 27, at the Fernwood in Bushkill.

She urged all persons who plan to attend the dinner to make their reservations without delay as the accommodations are limited to 300. A program is being arranged. There will be no speeches.

Church Organ Dedicated

DEDICATION of the new organ of the Arlington Heights Chapel was held on Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

An organ prelude was played by Mr. Riley. Hymn "Angels' Voices," was sung by the congregation. Riley and Mr. Stem played several selections. Scripture lesson was led by Rev. David Powell.

Solo was played by Mrs. Nancy Farry. Organ dedication was conducted by Rev. David Powell and congregation.

$600 Damage In Borough Accident

MORE THAN $600 damage was caused yesterday in a two-car collision at the intersection of Eighth and Thomas Sts. in Stroudsburg.

Daniel Bush, 59, of 816 Monroe St. told borough police he was traveling south on Eighth St. when his brakes failed as he approached the intersection.

Collision
As a result, the Bush car was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Reba Treible, 40, of 116 Jane St., Stroudsburg, which was traveling west on Thomas and was about to make a left turn into Eighth St., police said.

There was no consequential injuries, police added. The case still is under investigation.

Leighton Motorist Faces Traffic Charge

BROOKDALEVILLE—A Leighton motorist was arrested on a motor vehicle charge yesterday afternoon following a two-car collision on a dirt road, about a mile-and-a-half east of here.

State Police said James E. Mertz, 25, will be charged with failing to yield half of the highway to an oncoming auto operated by Mrs. Marion W. Gunn, 38, Stroudsburg RD 2.

Driving East

Mrs. Gunn was driving east when her car was involved in a collision with the Mertz auto, which allegedly was traveling west around a curve on the wrong side of the road, troopers said.

Total damages were estimated by State Police at $200.

4-H Club Leaders Attend Conference

TO PREPARE for more effective work in the 4-H Club program, volunteer club leaders from Monroe and 12 other counties in North-eastern Pennsylvania gathered this week at Keystone Junior College, LaPlume, for an extension-sponsored conference on understanding youth.

Attending from Monroe County were Mrs. Norman Dennis and Mrs. Ralph Boyer, both club leaders in Cherry Valley; Alton Kleintop, leader of the West End 4-H Club, and Robert H. Stauffer, assistant county farm agent.

The two-day conference was conducted by the agricultural and home economics extension service of the Pennsylvania State University. Over 100 persons attended, most of them local volunteer 4-H Club leaders, and including men and women.

Second of its kind ever held by the extension service in connection with its 4-H work, the conference was sponsored financially by the Sears Roebuck Foundation. A similar session, for 4-H leaders in southeastern counties, was held last Thursday and Friday at Pennsburg.

Principal consultant for both meetings was Dr. Glenn L. Dildine, of Washington, D. C., coordinator of research and training in human behavior for the National 4-H Foundation.

Representing the Penn State 4-H Club office were Allen L. Baker, State 4-H leader, and other members of the state 4-H staff. Two of the assistant 4-H leaders, E. A. Mintmier and Miss Rita Sullivan, were in charge of the program.

A panel discussion and other speakers, in keeping with the conference objectives, aimed at a basic understanding of boys and girls 10 to 18 years of age. Dr. Dildine explained: "If we can determine what makes boys and girls 'tick' we are in better position to understand what goes on inside them at different ages in their development."

State 4-H leader Baker said: "We've developed a large 4-H program in numbers of club members (36,000 for the state) and in variety of projects. Now we are making an effort to help our local club leaders get a better knowledge of boys and girls themselves in order that their work may have more satisfaction to them and that the 4-H program may be enriched in meaning for the club members."

Two Escape From Prison

LEHINGTON — State and local police were on the lookout last night for two men who escaped from the Carbon County Jail yesterday.

State Police identified the escapees as Francis Repertz, Bound Brook, N.J., and Harvey Fairchild, Lehigh. Troopers said both men escaped by going over a rear wall.

Bangor

THE INITIAL fall meeting of the Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian Church will be held next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Walter Cole on Pennsylvania Ave. Mrs. Glenwood Harris will serve as the co-hostess. Business pertaining to the church projects for the balance of the year will be discussed, in addition to the social hour. Mrs. Donald Roberts is president of the organization.

A joint meeting of all department heads of the Bangor Area Joint High School was held during the past week under the supervision of the high school principal, Dr. Trevor Williams.

Signal Depot Recalls Green To Hearing

SCRANTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Rep. William J. Green (D-Pa.), the Philadelphia Democratic chairman who already has appeared as a witness before the federal grand jury investigating alleged excessive costs in the construction of the 33-million-dollar Army Signal Corps depot at nearby Tobyhanna, is scheduled to testify again on Friday.

Green was subpoenaed last Aug. 7 and at that time declined any comment on the reason he was called. U. S. Atty. J. Julius Levy of the middle district of Pennsylvania who is handling the probe refused to dismiss the congressman's second scheduled visit.

Firemen Answer Bangor Alarm

BANGOR — Bangor firemen were called at 8:15 a.m. yesterday to extinguish a fire in a tool shed on Columbia Ave. near Division St. According to local officials of the fire department, the fire, which was of little note, was confined to a corner of the building.

The fire was extinguished with no complications. All local companies responded to the alarm.

Wedding Dinner At Saylorsburg

Bangor—The wedding of Mary Ann Cozzubio of Bangor RD 3, and Victor Fred Finelli, of Easton, was performed at 10 a. m. Saturday at St. Rock's Church by Rev. James P. Gallagher.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cozzubio and since her graduation from Pen Argyl High School is employed as bookkeeper for Jo-An Blouse Co. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Finelli, Easton, and is a graduate of Wilson High School. He is employed with his father at Cleaners, Phillipsburg, N. J.

The bride wore a gown of pure silk organza with a Sabrina neckline outlined in alencon hand embroidered lace. The bouffant skirt below the long torso bodice had a court train. She wore a matching crown of alencon lace to hold her floor-length, four-tiered veil. She carried white orchids with baby orchids and stephanotis.

Rose Mraio of Bangor RD 3, was maid of honor; and Rose Filingo, and Phyllis Cozzubio, Bangor, and Lorraine Finelli, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore a cyclamen pink nylon shifon with a matching tiara. The bridesmaids wore identical gowns in Romano blue. Their bouquets were of gardenias and pompons.

Mrs. John Williams was organist. St. Rock's choir sang and there was a solo by Pauline Auliso.

Leonard Donatelli of Easton was best man. The ushers included Philip Altieri, cousin of the bridegroom; of Easton; Mario Cozzubio, brother of the bride and Jerry Magnuson of Philadelphia.

After dinner at Ye Olde Saylors Inn, Saylorsburg, and a reception at the Blue Valley Farm Show building, the newlyweds left for a trip to Florida.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The haze is beginning to clear a little and most, but not all, of what I see is good. Of course it depends on your viewpoint whether 15 meetings for Thursday is good or bad.

However, there's no doubt that Harold Edwards regards the news of his new granddaughter as very, very good. It doesn't show, but he says he's been practicing being a grandfather ever since he heard the news on the train on the way back from Montana.

Good news for their friends, too, is the sight of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorman, here from Florida for a fortnight, and getting a big welcome from everyone.

Not so good was the news about Ed Williams who has been having considerable trouble with a misery in his back. He and Marion went to Temple University Hospital yesterday and let's hope they find and fix the trouble quick.

Rain today won't be exactly big trouble for the Garden Club members who are going on the trip to the Bronx Botanical Garden because they're going to travel by bus, even within the garden, but still it would be nicer with the sun shining, I imagine.

It's always nice to have your little private predictions coming true, too. Soon as I heard that Miggy Wyckoff's father, Ernest N. Roselle, was retiring as superintendent of the Southbury Training School, I thought "A-ah, another club speaker," and sure enough the Junior Women have pounced first. Which is natural enough when you consider that Miggy is a member.

Fashion Show For Portland Womans Club

Portland—The Portland Woman's Club opened their Fall program on Tuesday night with a covered dish supper in the social rooms of the Portland Baptist Church.

A Fall fashion show presented by Zachery of East Stroudsburg featured Mrs. Lawrence Ward as narrator and Mrs. Eleanor Morehead, Mrs. Miriam Scott, Miss Alice Delp and Miss Barbara Hughes, Portland, and Miss Roberta Hoehne, East Stroudsburg, as models.

Mrs. Everett Hughes, first vice president, presided at the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Ernest Courtney who is a patient in the Easton Hospital. Announcement was made of the visit of the Mobile X-ray Unit to Portland at Starnes Drug Store on Monday, September 24, from 6 to 8 p. m. Volunteers will make a door-to-door canvass this week to urge all persons 15 and over to have an X-ray taken during the visit which is sponsored by the Woman's Club.

An invitation was accepted to be guests of the Pen Argyl Woman's Club on Monday, November 5. Miss Ella Jelinek, Mrs. James Garofalo and Mrs. Olin Cramer were named to serve as a building committee. New members welcomed into the club were: Mrs. William Stine, Mrs. Fred Ott, Mrs. Leslie Steen, Miss Barbara Hughes, Miss Charlotte Bach, Mrs. Robert Farleigh, Mrs. James Barman, Mrs. Clifford Sebring, Mrs. Carl Beck and Mrs. Charles Beck.

Hostesses at the supper were Mrs. Arthur Barton, Mrs. Ray Transue, Mrs. Ethel Seely, Mrs. Ernest Courtney and Mrs. Everett Hughes. Mrs. David Edwards gave the invocation.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

No one knows exactly how the Aurora Borealis is created. The cause is thought to be a collision between atmospheric particles and charged particles from the sun, setting the latter into internal excitation, resulting in a radiation of light. Whatever the reason, the effect is entrancing, and it seems very appropriate that part of the name, "Aurora" should be borrowed from the Roman goddess of morning.

It is not at all surprising that this year, in the feminine quest for breathtaking beauty, creators of jewelry have set their sights upon a gem that captures much of the same iridescence of the real Northern Lights. It is rather surprising, as a matter of fact, that this did not happen long ago. True enough, the jewelry industry has always given us iridescents of one kind or another... but even the finest rhinestones... even the average diamond for that matter, lacks the pleasing soft, sun-yellow glow which serves as background for the other flashing hues in this year's favorite fashion whim.

At first glance, the stones may not seem too attractive to you. You may have become accustomed to the white of crystal and rhinestone. But they will grow on you, as you see how ideally they blend with the browns, spics, blacks and sand tones of fall and winter, and how subtle they are, actually, when compared with many of the more flamboyant cut stones we've been wearing. As a matter of fact, the demand for Aurora costume jewelry is so great right now, it is almost impossible for a buyer to find any sizeable quantity of it available. That's why Doris Hinton was jubilant when Mr. Wyckoff recently procured a rather large supply from an unexpected source.

These pieces are now on display (or were, when this column was written Tuesday morning) and they are elegant. Some combine the aurora with pearl. A few pieces of rather chunky, antique design, use them with emerald green as well. Settings are sleek modern gold, or dark, heavy antique gold. And the prices for earrings, bracelets, necklaces, and large pins are only 1.00 and 1.98.

Since the name is such a long one, the jewelry trade refers to the stone simply as AB. This suits us perfectly, for you can't do better on your "AB" purchases than right here—at A. B. Wyckoff.

I should like to urge everyone taking the Hudson River Cruise to make the extra 2.00 side trip to Hyde Park. A visit to the library housing treasures gleaned by the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt is one that will delight the heart of anyone, historically minded or not, who likes beautiful and unusual things. The Oriental rugs, gift of a Far Eastern potentate, were particularly interesting to me... but there is humor too in the Roosevelt collection of canes, many of them sent by his admirers.

Other items women will enjoy seeing are the gold inkwell presented by the late King George VI of Great Britain; the Chinese and Korean art objects and relics; the silver urn from Denmark; the gold and porcelain tea set from Norway; the gold filigree tiara and bracelets from the Sultan of Morocco; the incredible aquamarine given Mrs. Roosevelt by a former president of Brazil, and the gold globe of the world from Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia. And there are hundreds of other items just as breathtaking and out-of-this-world.

Remember that Hyde Park tickets must be purchased in addition to the cruise tickets... and the deadline is our store's closing hour of 5:30 this Saturday afternoon.

Jerry Hinton asks that I remind you of the chain saw demonstration scheduled for today, tomorrow and Saturday in the rear of our store. It will go on from morning through evening—right up until 9 p.m. with Horace Argot and Frank Kresge proving how time saving it is to work with one of Sears' 16 or 20 inch chain saws. A few moments of watching will convince you.

Pocono PTA Delegates To Council

Tannersville—A get-acquainted meeting was held Tuesday night by the Pocono Township Parent-Teachers Association. Rev. William Foose gave the invocation, and Richard Post, president, welcomed parents of first grade students and of pupils entering school for the first time.

Lawrence Wile, principal, introduced members of the school faculty. Delegates were appointed to the Monroe County PTA Council: Mrs. Homer Brong, Mrs. Jorgen Ask, Mrs. Mae Below, Mrs. Austin Kennedy, Mrs. Gerald Adkins, Archer Law, Frank Kresge and Willard Webster.

The fourth grade won the banner for having the most parents present. Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Horst, Mrs. John Ruchman and Mrs. Verdon Frailley.

Miss Honey Is Bride Of Allan Dunn

Bangor—The wedding of Miss Carolyn M. Honey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Honey of Mount Bethel to Allan L. Dunn Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dunn of Brielle, N. J., was held on Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Mount Bethel Presbyterian Church.

Rev. David R. Edwards performed the ceremony with Albert Fregans as organist and Charlotte Bach as soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pure silk peau de soie made with a portrait neckline trimmed with heirloom ruffled lace and pearls, long pointed sleeves and a bouffant skirt with a chapel-length train. A lace cloche trimmed with pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of shasta daisies with ivy.

Her sister, Mrs. Peter Lovric was her matron of honor. Her ballerina length gown was of toast color with a matching hat, and she carried a cascade bouquet of golden mums.

The bridesmaids: Miss Moy Dunn, sister of the bridegroom, of Brielle; Miss Madge Felker, cousin of the bride, of Forty Fort; and Miss Marion Uddin of Trenton, wore a beige lace dress with matching nose veils and carried cascades of bronze mums.

Michelle Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Scott, Trenton, N. J., was flower girl and wore a full-skirted frock of white nylon trimmed with lace and tied with a sash of beige and toast satin. She carried a miniature of the bride's bouquet.

Mr. Joseph Scuderi of New Brunswick, N. J., was best man with John B. Jones, Mahwah, N. J.; Peter Lovric, Mount Bethel and Robert Yeager, College Park, Md., as ushers.

After a reception at The Lantark, Roxburg, N. J., the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va. They will make their home in Yardley, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of Bangor High School and Rider College where she was a member of

Sports Trail --

By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—The Braves isn't dead, as Charley Dessen would say, but if they do succumb in this overheated National League race, their demise can be traced to a rainy, dismal twilight at the Polo Grounds when they tried to commit hara-kiri.

Trailing by half a game, this doubleheader presented the Braves with a virtual tie with the Brooklyn Dodgers. It was take two and hit the top, you might say.

The Milwaukee team was to face Johnny Antonelli, a hot pitcher right now, in the first game, but it had a pretty fair man going for it itself in Gene Conley, and with their edge in power the Braves seemed to be no worse than an even bet, particularly as they had the incentive of much higher stakes.

Fans

To give them even more of an edge they practically were playing at home. Even loyal Giant rooters were pulling for them, as well as the contingent of Milwaukee fans. But it's history now how the Braves all but killed themselves in that first game. They beat themselves as much as Antonelli beat them. You might call it the nail-biting tension of a team which knows it is on a spot.

Whatever it was, the Giants had three runs before the second inning was completed. Conley no longer was around, and the Braves were just playing for the exercise thereafter.

The way those three runs were made is worth noting, as it gives a vivid demonstration of the uncertainties of baseball.

Jackie Brandt, first man up, carried the ball off Conley's glove for an infield single. Bill White sent a roller past Conley, also good for an infield hit. Dusty Rhoads, down on strikes. But Bill Sarni sent a bloop toward center.

It should have been an easy out, but Bobby Thomson's feet began to run in one spot on the slick grass as he tried to get underway, and the ball dropped safely.

Then Daryl Spencer hit a soft line drive right at Conley's midsection. He dropped the ball for an error, and then Hank Thompson got the only real hit of the inning, a solid single to left.

Three Runs

That was it, one solid hit and three runs, largely because Conley couldn't fold up his 6-foot 8-inch frame rapidly enough to snare ground balls, and because the grass was slick in center field.

The Braves tried to battle back, verbally and otherwise. Johnny Logan got a home run that would be a home run nowhere else in the world but the Polo Grounds; a feeble, 274-foot looper hugging the right-field foul line to hit the screen, and Thomson unloaded a solid drive into the left-field seats for another.

The verbal offense was directed at Umpire Dick Delmore, who called a drive by Antonelli over the right-field roof a fair ball.

A bunch of hornets in grey uniforms were buzzing around him in no time, even the papa hornet. Fred Haney, setting something of a speed record for a man of his years and profile in getting out there. It stayed a home run.

This detail of the game is just to show that when a pennant contender loses it doesn't necessarily mean it is folding under the tension. Had Conley been a shorter, more agile man that second inning might never have happened. But he isn't, and it did, and that's that.

Lane Earns Nod Over Ludwig

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 19—Kenny Lane, 24-year-old switch-hitter from Muskegon, Mich., ran his winning streak to nine fights tonight as he bested Ludwig Lightburn from British Honduras in a fast 10-round bout launching Miami's new Biscayne Arena.

Lane, the sixth-ranking contender for the lightweight title, bothered Lightburn with his south-paw lead and befuddled him at times by going into a straightaway stance and shooting out with either

DeMarco Suspended

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—The state athletic commission today indefinitely suspended former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco on grounds he had a person with a criminal record acting as his manager "or undercover" manager in violation of commission rules.

DeMarco, who reigned briefly as lightweight king from March 5 to Nov. 17, 1954, bitterly denied the accusation. He said he would ask for a hearing on the decision within 10 days as commission rules permit.

Platform

At the same time Commission Chairman Julius Helfand used the hearing today as a platform to criticize Manager Sam Boardman of Marlborough, Conn., for selling a 10 per cent interest in his 20-year-old son, lightweight contender Larry Boardman, to Blinky Palermo.

Palermo is manager of former welterweight champion Johnny Saxton who lost his title to Carmen Basilio at Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 12. Palermo has no license in New York.

Collegiate Champ Upsets Head

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19 (AP)—Wimbledon champion Lew Hoad of Australia was defeated today in the third round of the Pacific Southwest Tennis Tournament by Alex Olmedo, U. S. national intercollegiate champion, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4.

The youngster from Peru, a student at the University of Southern California, swept the Davis Cup star from Down Under out of the tournament after a battle of more than two hours at the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

Tigers Thrash Baltimore, 9-1

DETROIT, Sept. 19 (AP)—Al Kaline hit his 26th home run and three singles and righthander Frank Lary won his 19th game today as the Detroit Tigers thrashed the Baltimore Orioles, 9-1, in 50-degree weather.

The smallest Briggs Stadium crowd of the year, 1,435, boosted Tiger home attendance over the million mark for the 11th time in 12 seasons. The Tigers now have drawn 1,000,578.

Williams Year Ahead Of Rule

CHICAGO, Sept. 19 (AP)—If the remarkable Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox is to edge New York's Mickey Mantle and win his fifth American League batting title this season, he will have to get to bat officially at least 28 times in Boston's eight remaining games.

Next year, it could be different, with a move afoot to count all plate appearances, including walks, sacrifice hits, etc., in the at-bat total for championship rating.

But League President Will Harridge ascertained today that the present scoring rule requiring 400 official AB's would be "strictly" observed in the current batting showdown between Williams and slugger Mantle of the Yankees.

At the moment, Williams with 132 hits in 372 official trips for a .355 average holds a five-point margin over Mantle, who has 181 hits in 517 AB's for .350. According to unofficial statistics, Williams has walked 90 times and been given 11 intentional walks through Sept. 9 against 106 stroll sand

Newcombe Lands 25th As Dodgers Crush Cardinals

BROOKLYN, Sept. 19 (AP)—Don Newcombe became Brooklyn's first 24-game winner in 32 years as the Dodgers rolled up their highest run total of the year to overwhelm the St. Louis Cardinals 17-2 today.

The big righthander, whose only defeat in his last 17 decisions since July 4 was a 1-0 loss to Johnny Antonelli and the New York Giants, was a one-man gang as the Dodgers clubbed five Redbird hurlers for 17 hits, including four home runs and four doubles.

Newcombe hurled only seven innings before Manager Walter Alton wisely decided to rest his ace pitcher for the tough grind ahead. Before Don left, however, he not only had stifled the Cards with seven hits but he had taken charge at the plate as well, clouting apair of home runs and a single to drive in three runs.

In addition, he stole a base and executed a fine defensive play. Except for that, nobody in the chilled crowd of 7,570 knew he was around.

Home runs accounted for both Cardinal runs. Alvin Dark reached the left-field seats in the first inning and Stan Musial smashed his 26th of the year over the right-field screen in the sixth.

Brooklyn scored in five of the first six innings, knocking out starter Tom Poholsky in the third, then shelling Lindy McDaniel and Willard Schmidt with an eight-run assault in the fifth that represented its largest scoring inning of the season.

Don Bessent finished up for Newcombe who became the first Dodger pitcher to win 25 games since Hal of Famer Dazzy Vance won 28 games in 1924. The only 25-game winners in the National League in the past 20 years besides Newcombe have been Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, 28 in 1952; Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer of Cincinnati, 27 and 25, respectively, in 1939; and Carl Hubbell of New York, 26 in 1936.

Birthday

Duke Snider celebrated his 23th birthday with his most productive day in many weeks. He cracked four singles, drove in three runs and scored twice. Randy Jackson, replacing Jackie Robinson at third in the sixth inning, knocked in four runs with two doubles and a sacrifice fly.

Besides Newcombe's pair, Sandy Amoros and rookie Don Demeter hit homers for the Dodgers. It was Demeter's first major league homer, in his second time at bat in the big leagues.

Dark made two errors in vital spots to make the Dodgers' task easier. He threw poorly on a double play ball in the first inning to let one run in and set up another.

In the Dodgers' big fifth, only one of the eight runs was earned. With one run in on Amoros' homer, the bases loaded and two out, the Cardinal shortstop fumbled Pee Wee Reese's grounder, one run scoring. The Dodgers then cracked through for six more to clinch the game.

Some doubt, however has been voiced concerning Bobby Finelli, the scat back of the Bangor eleven, who yesterday was forced to have dental surgery. He did not report for practice and Coach Evans is still waiting for word on the condition of this valuable half back.

Finelli is a three year veteran, and his loss to the squad would be quite a blow at this stage of the game. Last year, he was considered one of the better backs in the entire Lehigh Valley, but so far this year has failed to live up to expectations, due it is believed to an infected molar.

Veteran Squad

Catawauqua will field a veteran array against Bangor on Friday evening, a team that last year took the Slaters into camp by the tune of 20 to 0 on a wet, sodden field in the iron borough. Bangor coaching staff members expect one of the hardest contests of the year, but they also feel that given a dry field, the Bangor eleven will make an interesting battle for the Iron Borough boys, who last Saturday took little Coplay apart to the tune of 32 to 0.

Lemon Posts 20th As Indians Win

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19 (AP)—Bob Lemon posted his 20th victory of the season today as the Cleveland Indians hung a third consecutive shutout on the Washington Nationals, 6-0, while a crowd of 365 shivered in the chill and rain.

The downpour stopped the game in the last of the seventh, at which time the visitors had only five hits.

Seventh Time

It was the seventh time in his nine-year career that Lemon has won 20 or more games. Starting in 1948, when the Tribe won a pennant, he has won 20, 22, 23, 17, 22, 21, 23 and 18.

The Indians didn't score against Ted Abernathy until Vic Weritz hit a home run with the bases bare in the fourth. It was his 31st of the season.

A triple by Bob Avila and a single by Al Smith gave the Indians another run in the fifth.

The Indians scored four in the seventh before the game was halted.

Redlegs Topple Phillies Twice

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19 (AP)—Refusing to count themselves out of the torrid National League pennant race, the Cincinnati Redlegs swept both ends of a two-night doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies tonight, moving up to four games behind the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers.

Tom Acker pitched a three-hitter to give the Redlegs a 6-0 nightcap victory after Johnny Klippstein won the opened 6-3.

Defending Champion Upset In Women's Amateur Golf

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 19 (AP)—The American and the British Women's golf champions and the girl who has come closest to winning both of the titles in recent years were tumbled out of the 56th Women's National Amateur Golf Championship today by a pair of Pacific Northwest teen-agers and a greying ex-professional.

First, tall, sunburned Joanne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., the national junior girls' champion, crushed defending champion Pat Lesser, her Seattle clubmate, 5 and 4.

Then, with Pat in the gallery rooting for her, British Women's champion Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of St. Clair, Mich., three-putted the 19th green and lost to Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa.

And on the same 19th hole, Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., who had just passed her 19th birthday, made a beautiful chip shot that eliminated Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., who won the American championship in 1954 and went to the finals of the British the next spring.

Also missing tomorrow when the tournament goes into its first double round will be Grace Lenzyk, the 1948 U. S. champion from Newington, Conn., and Tam O' Shanter "World" Amateur champion Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio. One ex-champion, 1951 winner Dot Kirby of Atlanta, survived the upset spurge, as did Canadian champion Marlene Stewart.

Strouds To Meet Tonight
STROUDS, pennant winner in Pocono Mountains Baseball League, will hold a social meeting at the home of Dr. John P. Lim, 805 Main St., today.

All members of the club are asked to be present at 8 p.m.

Stroudsburg Preparing For Emmaus Contest

Mountaineers In Quest Of Second Win

STROUDSBURG HIGH'S once-victorious football team today made plans to making Emmaus High its second victim of the young season in the Green Hornets nest tomorrow night.

The Mountaineers of John Whitehead, swept through a long scrimmage session Tuesday and yesterday began cutting down on the rough stuff in preparation for their invasion of Emmaus.

The highly spirited Mountaineers who displayed one of the best offenses in the school's history in their winning effort over Lehigh last week set their sights on Friday night's engagement with Emmaus in workouts this week.

Good Condition

Whitehead announced that the team is in topflight condition except for a few minor injuries. Ron (No) Stopp, the Mountaineers signal-caller who led the backfieldmen in ground gaining in the opener, reported back to duty ready for Friday's action. Stopp, the other half of the twin brother duo of "Does" Stopp, a key lineman in Whitehead's plans, was injured late in the Lehigh game but medical examinations proved negative and the Mountaineer quarterback is expected to be ready by game time.

May Make Changes

Whitehead may make a few changes in his starting arrays. But if the switches come, they won't be drastic. Work on lackadaisical performances of some linemen may force the hard-working Mountaineer mentor to make the moves.

However, if the last workouts of the Stroudsburg eleven prove enlightening, Whitehead may go with the same starting lineup that ran up 365 yards against Lehigh. As Whitehead emphasized "Only time and hard work will tell."

DV Quoiten Open Season On Thursday

BANGOR — Play in the Delaware Valley Quoit League will open Thursday night with last year's champions, Otto's Grandview of Portland, missing from the field.

The team retired from the race at the last minute, cutting the circuit to eight members.

Tomorrow's Slate

As a result the schedule has been revised. Each club engages in a format series with each other entry and the 28-week card will run until April 4 inclusive with a one-week layoff before Christmas and New Year holidays.

The lineup for Thursday night is as follows: Stockertown at Bangor Vets; Tatamy at East Lawn; Five Points at East Bangor; Village Barn, Portland at Fourth Ward of Bangor.

Lehigh University Ends Plentiful For '56 Football Campaign

BETHLEHEM, Sept. 19 — "Are those two guys back again?" could be the muttered query of nine rival coaches of Lehigh University's varsity grid squad.

The reason: Austin E. Short, Quakertown, and Thomas A. Fallace, Mamaronck, N.Y., have been fixtures at end for the Brown and White for the past two years.

Lehigh will open its 73rd consecutive gridiron campaign at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon against Gettysburg College in Taylor Stadium. It will be the first home opener for the Brown and White in six years.

Short and Fallace have compiled impressive records. Offensively, they rate as two of the finest pass-catchers in Brown and White football history. Only Tom Gunn, who packed away his moleskins after the 1953 season, bettered the receiving records of Short and Fallace in modern Lehigh football history.

The most promising rookie prospect is 6-1, 185-pound Joseph M. Wenzel, Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y. A right halfback on last year's freshman eleven, Wenzel was converted to end during Spring drills.

Nevill Prospect

Other sophomore prospects are

Anthony Almasy, Bridgeport, Conn.; David R. Nevill, Stroudsburg; and David C. Springman, Chester.

Two junior reserves from the 1955 squad are battling for second-string berths. They are Frederick M. Darley, Hartford, Conn. and John H. Schneider, Fort Washington, N.Y. Philip G. Leigh, senior from Pleasantville, N.J. is the ninth flank candidate.

Art Wall

Wall Practices For Sunday's Exhibition At Pocono Manor

POCONO MANOR—Art Wall, fresh from an outstanding victory in the Fort Wayne Open, prepared for a big exhibition match on Sunday with a practice session here yesterday.

Wall has been idle from the golf wars since winning the Indiana tournament in a sudden death playoff last Sunday. But, he brought all the clubs into play yesterday as he prepared for this Sunday's exhibition that will feature him teamed with popular Jack Cuttle against the outstanding Doug Ford and the long distance cloutier Mike Fetchick.

Art put together what is termed "three of my greatest shots" to defeat both Bill Trombley, Dallas, Tex., and Gardner Dickinson, Panama City Beach, Fla., at Fort Wayne. All three had finished the regulation 72 holes with 269 and a deadlock.

Wall sank a six-foot putt on the extra hole to win with a birdie.

Wall, a native of Honesdale and Pocono Manor's tournament entry, set the golf world buzzing with two brilliant rounds at Fort Wayne, during which he carded 64 and 65.

Second Time

The lanky sharpshooter won the Fort Wayne title for the second time and picked up $2,400. He also won the Las Vegas Open in 1954 and the Rubber City Open the same year. Wall has been credited with 33 holes-in-one during his career.

Ford, regarded as the best putter in the business, is currently ranked seventh in the all-time money winning department. He is a member of the Ryder Cup team and landed the PGA crown in 1955. Ford's long list of winnings made him the top money winner on the circuit in 1954.

Fetchick, like Ford, a resident of Yonkers, N. Y., hit one of the longest balls in the business. He won the Bramley, Calif., Open in 1955 and the St. Petersburg Open this year.

Cuttle, who is recognized among the leading professionals as an instructor of outstanding ability, has been at Pocono Manor over 30 years and the home pro still holds the course record of 66. Par is 73.

Ford and Fetchick will oppose Wall and Cuttle in an 18-hole match at 1:30 p. m., following a one-hour clinic.

Tickets will be available at the club for one dollar and proceeds will be divided between the Pennsylvania Cancer Society and Pennsylvania Heart Association.

Vessels Still Big Question

BALTIMORE, Sept. 19 (AP)—Billy Vessels, the mostly high regarded college back of 1952, ends a three-year wait Sunday for fans anxious to see what he can do in professional football, U.S. style.

So far, not even the Baltimore Colts, who were more anxious than anybody, have any idea. Vessels has had a sore leg the entire training period, so the final exhibition game against the Washington Redskins will be his first competition in the National Football League.

Monroe Classic In Action Today

MONROE CLASSIC Bowling League will hit the alleys today at Harmon's Recreation, East Stroudsburg, starting at 7 p. m.

The schedule:
Alleys one and two — Community Bar vs. Bill Altiers.
Alleys three and four — Red Top Tavern vs. Eagles A.
Alleys five and six — Square Bar vs. D. Katz and Sons.

Bill Altiers W. 1. 0
Eagles A 4. 4
Community Bar 4. 4
Square Bar 4. 4
Red Top Tavern 4. 4
D. Katz and Sons 0. 2

Rotary Clubs Look Forward To Peace

MOUNT POCONO—Dist. Gov. Corey Patton of Wilkes-Barre told members of the Mount Pocono Rotary Club this week that the service organization looks forward to the day when wars will not be the instrument to settle disputes.

The district governor made the remark Tuesday during his visit to the local club, which met at the Methodist Church here.

Patton recalled that a young lawyer, Paul Harris, was surrounded by people, but still was consumed by loneliness. As a result, he organized the first Rotary Club.

Last year, he continued, 353 new clubs were formed in 49 countries.

United

However, the district governor said Rotary must remain simple and remain united in the ideal of service.

"Rotary must command the respect of all," Patton declared. "Rotary is not a dictatorial organization, but one which recognizes the individual as the master of his own fate."

Patton said Rotarians must adjust themselves to the best interests of all concerned, and emphasize the things on which all can agree, and minimize the things on which there is no agreement.

"We must always start with people," Patton said.

The district governor was introduced by Club President Paul Asure.

Later, the district governor met with all committee chairmen and reviewed in detail the work and plans of the various committees. Patton congratulated the local club for having the most complete report of committees of any club visited.

"I must also congratulate your club for the fine work of every committee," he said. "Particularly do I find here at the Mount Pocono Club a warm and friendly atmosphere."

"You really live Rotary," Patton added.

Union Head Questions Mitchell

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell told the United Steelworkers of America today "the American workingman and woman has done better during the past three and a half years than ever before."

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, immediately questioned that.

"I wouldn't say that was true," Meany told a news conference.

"If the Republicans are responsible for this prosperity, then they also have to take the blame for 10 years of misery caused by the last previous Republican administration."

Meany said he meant the years 1929 to 1939.

Delegates

In a speech to 2,500 delegates to the steelworkers' convention Meany urged laborites to get out and vote and cast ballots for candidates friendly to labor.

Mitchell said employment is at an all-time high of nearly 67 million, unemployment is down to slightly more than 3 per cent, and wages are at a new high.

But Meany disagreed with Mitchell's statement that purchasing power has risen sharply. In his speech, the union chieftain said there are still "millions ill fed and ill housed who must be the concern of all organized labor."

Earlier the steelworkers adopted a policy statement criticizing the steel industry for price increases "not justified by increased production costs."

Fellowship Holds Fall Roundup

YOUTH FELLOWSHIP of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church held its Fall Roundup in the Fellowship Room under the direction of Rev. Roger C. Stinson recently.

Fall Roundup was to promote new members and a program for the new year.

Fred Smith, president, took charge of the meeting. Doug Jones, who was recently elected president of the Pocono Sub-District Conference, brought out the point that there is a rally being held Sunday at the Canadensis Methodist Church at 7 p. m. Cars will leave for the church at 6:00 p. m. Doug also spoke on his trip to Pottstown, where he attended a coaching conference for MYF officers. He was elected Commissioner of Christian Outreach for the Philadelphia Annual Conference.

Also included in the program was a talk by Mrs. Daniel Miller, who has just accepted a position on the staff of the Stroudsburg YMCA as Girls' Youth Director. Mrs. Miller told about her youth work and her native Denmark.

A large group attended the meeting.

Lions Enjoy Outing At Williams Home

BEN K. WILLIAMS, former president of the Stroudsburg Lions Club, threw his Summer home in the Devil's Hole section of Paradise Valley open to club members Tuesday night. Williams and former club president, Edward Driebe were hosts to a large delegation of the members at dinner.

Before the meal was served a cocktail hour was enjoyed.

Dinner was prepared by "Red" Lambert who was ably assisted in preparing and serving by Driebe and Jules Kessler. The hosts refused to accept any payment for the food, all of which was donated by them and the ticket money went into the activities fund. The sum cleared was $135.

Several guests were present namely Budd Smith of the Gulf Stream Lions Club, St. Petersburg, Fla. Smith was the guest of Edward Bonser of the Barrett club, himself a guest for the occasion; John Whitehead, Stroudsburg High School football coach, guest of T. Manning Curtis; Francis Regan, guest of his brother John Regan.

Hospitalized

President Harold L. Miller informed the members that two members of the club are now patients at the General Hospital. Russell Shiffer has been there quite a long time and Leon Koster has been admitted suffering from a heart condition.

During the formal club session there were interesting recollections of olden times in the club voiced by some veteran members.

Miller called on Williams and thanked him for the courtesies of the occasion. Ben replied telling of former days in the club, when the late Dr. Carl Rosenkrans was active and doing such wonderful work in providing tonsillectomy operations under Lions auspices. He paid tribute, also to Dr. Phil Ehrig for his good work in this connection.

Williams didn't forget former Lion president Dr. James Gavin, who has been head of the widespread eye relief conducted by the club.

Dr. Gavin responded and turned the spot-light right back on Williams telling of many constructive enterprises in which he has engaged bringing much credit to the club.

Miller extended the club's thanks to Williams, Driebe and Kessler for their fine work during the program.

Williams was given the Lions roar.

Miller announced that the club will return to the Penn-Stroud Hotel with the next meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 25.

Economist Proposes Limited Aid

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—A University of Wisconsin economist proposed to Congress today a policy of limited federal aid to industries hurt by changes in U. S. tariff policy.

Prof. Paul T. Ellsworth told a House Ways and Means subcommittee that "inefficient" industry, unable to compete for markets with foreign imports, should either go out of business or shift to more efficient lines.

But he suggested the federal government had responsibility for some program of indemnification which would permit such industry to adjust to foreign competition.

"Where a sudden change of tariff policy is put into effect, hard-hit industry should be given special consideration," Ellsworth said. "It should be given some period of time, say 10 years, to readjust to increased import competition such as shifting to a different type of production."

No Details

Ellsworth said he had no detailed suggestions for administering a federal indemnification program, but mentioned small business loans and retraining of workers as possible methods.

He told the subcommittee he did not regard it as economically sound to give tariff protection to "inefficient industry" simply to maintain its interest in the economy.

"Unless there is some special consideration, such as a defense consideration, the mere argument of vested interest is not enough to warrant going on and protecting it," he said.

The free flow of international trade may result in a "temporary loss" to individual firms, he said, but it produces "a long-range gain to the American economy through more efficient use of its resources."

Ellsworth cited the U. S. watch industry, in competition with Swiss watchmakers, and the textile industries as possible examples.

The averaged retired worker benefit from Social Security in 1955 was $61.37 a month, 20 per cent higher than in 1954.

Suez Problem Similar To Oil Situation

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
AS TIME goes on the Suez canal situation looks more and more like the Iranian oil situation of a few years ago, with the outcome also promising to be very similar.

You will remember that Mohammed Mossadegh made himself dictator of Iran. He nationalized the oil wells which Britain had a contract to develop and operate. He got himself thrown out of office and into jail. Oil production was resumed under an international consortium. It took about two years.

Resumption of production followed a period in which Iran stagnated. Her oil was replaced in world markets by increased production in Allied-controlled areas. The Allies are now moving restlessly against Egyptian President Nasser's effort to make Suez, long dedicated to international service, a strictly Egyptian-owned and operated project.

Nasser pretends he is merely defending and expanding the rights and power of Egypt. He has the sympathy and support not only of his own people but of the rest of the Arab world and a large part of the so-called underdeveloped areas, and of Soviet Russia.

Nasser's action, however, actually was triggered by resentment against withdrawal of Anglo-American financing for a big irrigation and power project on the Nile. The allies had been eulogized into the deal at first by his false claim that Russia was prepared to do it if they didn't.

Backs Away
Nasser backed away from this motive. But Dr. Salah Tewfik, attaché of the Egyptian Embassy in the United States, has reconfirmed it. Tewfik said yesterday that American withdrawal of $57,000,000 for the dam might cost her nine times that sum. He referred to an estimate that the European Allies might need $500,000,000 aid from the United States to remunerate them for the cost of bypassing Suez.

The remuneration plan is still in an unsettled stage. At first it was suggested to help pay extra Allied costs in bringing Middle Eastern oil around the Cape of Good Hope. Now it appears in the form of increased Western Hemisphere oil shipments so that Britain and France would not have to bring so much around the Cape, holding their costs level.

All this, however, is just one facet of the economic and political pressures which the Allies plan to use if Nasser persists in his pretensions to unilateral control of Suez.

The record is being prepared, through current negotiations in London and through activities which are not being made public, for outright economic and political warfare.

Nasser, because of Egypt's position as one of the sterling bloc nations, because Britain and France can squeeze his economy from every direction through their large business interests, because he has mortgaged Egypt's future cotton crops for Russian arms, can't stand the long-range pressure. He is just too small, and the aid he expects from Russia is turning out to be indecisive.

And you can be sure that within unstable Egypt, where British agents have always operated with precision, the political wheels are turning, just as they turned in Iran even while Mossadegh appeared to be having it all his own way.

Two Israeli Soldiers Wounded
JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, Sept. 19 (AP)—An Israeli military spokesman said Israeli troops were fired on today in the southern Judean hills near the Jordan border. Two Israelis were reported wounded, one seriously.

Several recent clashes along this border have brought tension between Jordan and Israel to a new peak.

Air Official Points Out Alarm Value

By ELTON C. FAY
OTTAWA, Canada, Sept. 18 (AP)—Vice Air Marshal C. R. Dunlap, pointing out the value of the new mid-Canada air raid alarm system, says the swift and utter destruction capabilities of hydrogen weapons make it "absolutely imperative that a nation and its cities have advance 'warning' when hostile bombers head their way. The vice chief of staff of the Royal Canadian Air Force was briefing a party of newsmen setting forth from this capital on a 4,200-mile inspection trip of the line, which will go into operation on Jan. 1.

The 170-million-dollar network, financed entirely by Canada, stands between the Distant Early Warning Line—Dewline—along the top of North America and the Pinetree line in the area of the U.S.-Canadian border.

Designed to sound a second, urgent warning as bombers head from the polar route, the mid-Canada line—MCL—also will provide another and vital function: It will give a clue on the direction that enemy planes take after crossing Dewline. Some American experts had criticized the Dewline-Pinetree system as lacking a means of tracking bombers.

The MCL equipment, while somewhat less complex than that of Dewline and Pinetree, will indicate at what point along the line stretching from Labrador to British Columbia enemy planes passed over.

Warning Line
Dunlap says cryptically that "A warning line is frightfully important."

In addition to alerting threatened target areas, Dunlap mentions these reasons why electronic sentry lines are so vital:

A warning line "denies an enemy surprise attack against retaliatory forces." The U.S. Strategic Air Command has some of its bomber bases deployed close to the U.S.-Canadian border. These are about 1,400 miles from Dewline, which is a two-hour flight for invading jet bombers, and about 400 miles, or a 40-minute flight from MCL.

If it were possible to knock out retaliatory forces with a swift, surprise blow "it could be quite tempting for an aggressor to make an air attack." But as long as such a blitz remains obviously impracticable "there is little likelihood of attack."

The warning line "certainly will not be obsolete as long as there are bombing forces." Russia is developing a new series of bombers, which "probably will remain in operation until the late 60's." You will ask, what about the Inter-Continental Ballistic Missile and whether it will make warning lines obsolete because of the speed and altitude at which it travels? There have been some expressions of opinion "by well known and able scientists" that the production of practical ICBMs may be "well on toward the end of the decade."

Dunlap replies "There is no ICBM at the present time." He adds that such a weapon "not only must fire at 5,000 miles but with accuracy," and you are not going to fire these multimillion-dollar devices without being sure they will bring military profit.

The U. S. minted 13.5 million dollars in silver coins for Australia during World War II.

Altoona Man Named To Post

HANOVER, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP)—

HAPPINESS is a telephone call

A voice you hadn't heard for weeks or months...
The offer of a job you wanted so much to win...
An invitation to a party you knew will be great fun...
Good news from your family or faraway friends...
A business order you'd worked hard to get...

In everyone's life, so much happiness starts with the ring of the telephone. So often, the calls you receive are more important to you than those you make. And these calls never show up on your telephone bill. That's just one more reason why the telephone is one of your biggest bargains. Your telephone costs you so little for what it gives you.

Bottlers To Meet At Pocono Manor

POCONO MANOR — Keystone Bottlers Association, which is made up of all the leading soft drink bottlers of Pennsylvania, will hold its 37th annual convention here today, tomorrow and Saturday.

At the same time, the Keystone Bottlers Boosters Club, comprised of manufacturers of glass, crowns, machinery, sugar and many other products used in the manufacture of soft drinks, will hold its annual convention simultaneously.

Leland H. Bull, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, Harrisburg, will speak at the luncheon meeting Saturday.

Speakers

Leaders in the industry from all over the nation are listed as speakers at the business session. They include: Mitchell Cox, New York, vice president of Pepsi-Cola Co., in charge of sales promotion and sales training; William Uzzell, Columbus, Ga., general sales manager of Nehi Corporation; G. William Stuart, Philadelphia, food promotion manager of Ladies Home Journal and Frank Snell Jr., general manager, Florida Coca-Cola Co.

Pannill Martin, president of the Cloverdale Spring Co., Newville, Pa., Harrisburg and Baltimore, and president of the Keystone Bottlers Association, will preside at the business sessions. R. D. Barr, president of the Seven-Up Bottling Co., Pittsburgh, is vice president of the association.

The American honeybee is an immigrant. They came over with early settlers, astonishing the Indians who called them "white man's flies."

The Green Thumb

Winter Injury Causes Evergreens To Lose Needles, But Damage May Not Be Permanent

EVERGREEN PROBLEMS: This department is receiving many letters from our reader-friends, concerning evergreens. Many have asked what those "strange" growths are on Arborvitae trees. Those are small seed-bearing cones, and this year's crop of cones is big, and on arborvitae they look somewhat unsightly. They are not galls as many believe.

Another thing which worries home owners is needle-loss on evergreen. This is natural. Evergreens do not lose their foliage by mass defoliation (as do the Larches), but they lose some from the inside, while the outside remains green. As we've said before, if they lose all their needles at once, they wouldn't be called evergreens. Complete shedding all at once indicates trouble, but when the process starts from the center, with outer needles remaining nice and green, this is just a natural occurrence.

One cause of loss of needles or foliage on evergreens is winter injury. This can be due to drying action of sun and wind, or salt sprays from highways. The result will be browning of needles in early spring, with shedding. Unless injury is very severe, trees are not necessarily permanently injured by such loss of needles. The loss won't be for long as buds will throw out new growth.

Black Frost Hits.
Tuberous begonia bulbs will last many years, so even if yours did not do well outdoors this summer, don't discard them. Too small a pot, too heavy a soil, lack of fertility, strong competition from roots of nearby plants may account for poor growth of begonias. Store the bulbs in sand or dry peat in a cool basement for the winter.

F. E. of E. Stroudsburg.
"Our maple trees look had this year. The limbs are sparse and open, as if some blight hit them. Leaves have started to fall early. Is there some kind of blight on Maples now?"
Maple trees are suffering from the effects of last year's bad drought, and the milder droughts two and three years ago. Those dry spells weakened the trees and the damage is now being noticed. Leaves turn red early, fall prematurely, limbs are sparse. Sugestions: Feed your trees this fall and see that they get ample water before winter. These will do much to help build up the vigor and keep the trees healthy. Cut out all dead limbs.

Question Box

By George Abraham
A. F. of Stroudsburg: "Our tuberous begonias did quite well this year. I understand you can dry the plants off and start them again indoors for winter flowering. Can the plants be left in the same pots without drying them off?"

These bulbs should not be forced again to bloom indoors. They need a rest period. We've had ideal growing conditions for tuberous begonias and they've made great growth in most cases. When the foliage starts turning yellow, gradually reduce watering, and when all the growth has died down, take the bulbs out, wash off the soil, dry in sunlight for a day or two until thoroughly dry, and store in open flats in a cool dry place.

We like to make sure that particles of the old stem are removed completely, right up to healthy tissue. If stem is left on partly, the bulbs will decay and destroy the tuber. Incidentally, a light frost which has just nipped the foliage won't harm the bulbs, but it's a good idea to lift them before a real

Ike Calls For Conference

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (P)—President Eisenhower today called a White House conference of small business consultants for Sept. 27. The move apparently was aimed at countering Democratic political campaign charges that small businessmen are being squeezed by tight credit measures taken by the Eisenhower administration.

Includes upwards of 150 jobbers and distributors of petroleum products operating in various parts of the Commonwealth.
